Helping you protect your business during the coronavirus crisis

We're in unprecedented times, with the impacts of the coronavirus wide-ranging. We want to reassure you that we're here to help your business when you need us most and we're continuing to make sure we have the right support in place.

This pack outlines some of the support available to you, but for the most up to date information, please visit our dedicated online hub.

Keeping your business safe from fraud

Fraudsters are unfortunately using the coronavirus outbreak as an opportunity to attempt a variety of scams and cybercrime.

With remote working increasingly common, remember that anywhere staff might work becomes an extension of your workplace and security needs to be maintained at the same level.

It's especially important for employees to be aware of the dangers that fraudsters are exploiting the spread of coronavirus to facilitate various types of fraud and cybercrime.

Employees should be continually reminded of the risks of fraud and cybercrime, and what they should do:

Invoice redirection

Fraudsters pose as a creditor or supplier and tell you their company's bank details have changed (due to the coronavirus outbreak).

The communication will ask you to make all future payments to a new sort code and account number.

Email fraud 'Phishing'

Fraudsters are sending out coronavirus-themed phishing emails to trick people into opening malicious attachments or revealing sensitive personal and financial details.

For example, emails which claim to be from medical or government research organisations.

Phone fraud 'Vishing'

Vishing is fraudulent contact made by phone.

Be alert to bogus calls linked to coronavirus as these could be from fraudsters who claim that they're from the bank, the police, an IT company or an official health organisation or company that you trust.

Bogus Boss 'email spoofing'

Bogus emails are sent to staff claiming to be from a senior member of staff within the organisation such as a Director, CEO or Chairman etc. requesting an urgent payment.

They will often say that the payment is needed for urgent cleaning or medical supplies to counter coronavirus and needs to be made immediately.

Find out more about the types of fraud and scams that could impact your business on our online Security Centre. Or keep up to date by following our NatWest Business social media channels (Facebook, LinkedIn and Twitter).

Introducing the Coronavirus Business Interruption Loan Scheme (CBILS)

What is CBILS and how does it work?

The Coronavirus Business Interruption Loan Scheme (CBILS) is designed to support long-term viable businesses who may need to respond to cashflow pressures by seeking additional finance.

We are participating in CBILS and using the scheme to support our Term Loan products.

A summary of CBILS

What is it?	The scheme is designed to support those businesses that were trading successfully before coronavirus, but now face difficulty as a result of the current disruption and for those businesses whose growth requirements cannot be supported under normal bank lending criteria.
Which businesses are in scope?	UK-based businesses with group turnover of up to £45m per annum.
Are all industrial sectors in scope?	Almost all business sectors can access CBILS. Some different terms will apply for a small number of sectors, including for some agriculture and aquaculture businesses.
What products does the bank provide CBILS in support of?	We use CBILS to support our Term Loan products.
What sizes of loans are available?	We will provide CBILS-supported loans for amounts ranging from £5k to £5m.
Over what terms are CBILS loans available?	CBILS loans are available for terms of up to 6 years.
Interest-free period	The first 12 months of a CBILS loan is interest-free. Interest will be paid after this initial 12-month period.
How long will CBILS remain on sale?	CBILS will remain on sale until the end of September 2020. This on-sale period may be extended by the Government. The Government has indicated that there is no maximum cap set for the amount of total lending to be supported through the new scheme. Therefore, there is no immediate need to approach lenders if you do not need finance in the short-term.
Other forms of Government support are available for businesses	Please refer to the Government support website for further details.

Security may be required. Product fees may apply. Over 18s only. Business use only.

ANY PROPERTY OR ASSET USED AS SECURITY MAY BE REPOSSESSED OR FORFEITED IF YOU DO NOT KEEP UP REPAYMENTS ON ANY DEBT SECURED ON IT.

How to apply for CBILS

Are you eligible to apply?

To be eligible for support via CBILS, your business must:

- Be UK-based, with group turnover of no more than £45m per annum
- Operate within an eligible industrial sector. There are a considerable number of sectors eligible to participate but a small number are not
- Be unable to meet a lender's normal lending requirements for a fully commercial loan, but would be considered viable over the longer-term, notwithstanding any coronavirus impacts over the short-to-medium term.

For more information please visit the British Business Bank website or our Coronavirus Hub.
